Negative Communication: Student and Instructor Misbehaviors

Katie Dunleavy, Ph.D., Communication

Tuesday, December 6, 4:00p.m.
Holroyd Atrium. Free Food.

Student misbehaviors include "any action performed by the student that interferes with the learning process." On the other hand, instructors can also misbehave; they can behave incompetently, offensively, or indolently. As the millennial generation enters the college classroom, how are we communicating about misbehaviors? Do we have new misbehaviors we need to address? How can we remove the misbehaviors and encourage more learning?

Please note the change in day and time for this "First Tuesday" Café.
Don't miss the final Café of the semester!

Explorer Cafés are every Wednesday at 3:00p.m. except for "First Tuesday" Cafés (4:00p.m. on the first Tuesday of each month beginning in October).

December Health Tip

Antibiotics are the most important tool we have to combat life-threatening bacterial diseases, but the overuse of antibiotics can also result in negative side effects.

Antibiotic resistance is one of the world's most pressing public health threats.

It starts with YOU!

People infected with antibiotic-resistant organisms are more likely to have longer, more expensive hospital stays, and may be more likely to die as a result of the infection.

Antibiotic resistance is not just a problem for the person with the infection. Some resistant bacteria have the potential to spread to others – promoting antibiotic-resistant infections.

Antibiotic overuse increases the development of drug-resistant germs.
